Webster’s Definition of Team

- A body of persons organized for some specific activity.
- A group of people working together.
- To work in a cooperative activity.

- A member of a Fire Prevention Education Team (FPET) will have an opportunity to creatively solve problems when severe wildland fire conditions occur.

- The diverse nature of the team and the wealth of experience it contains make the FPET an outstanding resource to fire management and the public.

- “Never doubt that a small group of thoughtful, committed citizens can change the world. Indeed, it’s the only thing that ever has.” – Margaret Mead
The needs of the sponsoring agency or agencies are diverse, and the composition and organization of the FPET is dependent on the type of assignment and the needs of the requesting agency.

The fact that the team is small requires every member to help obtain:

- Supplies.
- Present programs.
- Coordinate with other team members and agencies.
- Coordinate activities to meet schedules.
- Maintain their physical fitness.
- Conduct assessments.
- Maintain documentation.
- Participate in events.
Types of Assignments

- Incident Management Team Support.
- Community Wildfire Awareness and Education.
- Community and Agency Relations.
- Interagency Support.
- Defensible Space Evaluations.
- Natural Disasters.
- Large Event Planning and Response.

FPETs should be brought in if you see increases in any of the following:

- Human activity (such as holiday weekends or special events).
- Human-caused fires.
- Fire danger conditions.
- Fire restrictions.
- Fire prevention workload.
- Demands on local capacity.
There are some common elements of all the positions. For example:

- Have a positive safety commitment.
- Be professional, and respectful.
- Competent in his or her job.
- Work effectively for the host unit.
3 Core Members of a FPET

- Prevention Education Team Leader (PETL)
- Prevention Education Team Member (PETM)
- Public Information Officer 2/1 (PIO2/1)

- A PIO2 or higher is required for a NFPET. A PIO3 may be utilized on a local or regional FPET.
Prevention Education Team Leader (PETL)

- Must achieve set objectives.
- Communicates, plans, trains, evaluates, coordinates, and delegates.

- As with any organization, the leader is there to support the team. If appropriate, a Prevention Education Team Leader (PETL) trainee is assigned to build a pool of qualified team leaders.
- The PETL is an active participant in the activities.
- Because the PETL is responsible for the team, he or she must be kept informed by team members and provide regular feedback to the host unit representative.
Fire Prevention Education Team Member (PETM)

- Ability to analyze fire history.
- Determine appropriate mitigation strategies.
- Implement tactics to meet objectives.
- Positive interpersonal skills.
- Ability to achieve results.

Public Information Officer (PIO)

  - Newspapers, social media, publications, community meetings, radio and TV stations, and national media are in the scope of the team’s interest.
- Internal and external communications.

- Developing messages focused on the mission and related events is critical. Keeping information newsworthy means being social media savvy, obtaining new materials, and maintaining a close relationship with all the media, in all the markets, is a big job. Through market analysis, the FPET can focus attention on priority activities.
Technical Specialist (THSP)

A person with special skills required to support the FPETs mission.

- Graphic Artist.

  - Know the target audience.

- Serving as a Prevention Education Team Member (PETM) is a great opportunity, but it requires that each person works outside the scope of his or her normal activity.

- The demands associated with completing the work during a brief time under challenging conditions and the host unit goals and objectives can be stressful. It is also a chance to think differently and be creative in ways that may not be part of normal operations.

- The key at this point is that everyone should recognize that the organization of the FPET is adjusted to the needs of the assignment. It can take many shapes and contain a variety of specialists, but there are many roles for each person to play. This course will be dealing with all the activities in much more detail as it progresses. There are a lot of tasks to accomplish. Each person has a critical role.

- Remember, there is nothing we can’t accomplish if we don’t care who gets the credit.
