Summary:

To increase student awareness of the duties and responsibilities of all Command and General (C&G) Staff positions. This unit will be particularly helpful for students without a fire background.

Objectives:

Students will be able to:

• Summarize the responsibilities and duties of the C&G positions.

Instructor Note:

The content of this unit can be facilitated as one session or broken into shorter segments focusing on one or two positions throughout the course. The discussion of each position should last about 20 minutes.

Note to Instructor

There is no PowerPoint presentation to follow for this unit. It is critical for instructors to facilitate a discussion with students instead of lecturing.

Exercise: “What I’m Looking for from a Position.” Discussion on C&G positions. (5 minutes)

Purpose: For students to discuss what they learned in the pre-course work and to become more familiar with the command and general staff positions.

- This discussion of C&G positions (ICT2, SOF2, OSC2, PSC2, LSC2, FSC2, PIO2, and LOFR) can be facilitated as one discussion covering all positions or broken up into small segments throughout the course.
- Initiate a class discussion for each of the C&G positions.
- The instructor should briefly tell students what they want most from a person in that position.
- Ask students to complete the tasks below for each position and record the answers on a flip chart.
- List the primary responsibilities and duties of the position.
- List three questions students have about the position.
- Identify products (such as publications, software, and websites) that the position uses often, e.g., NWCG Standards for Interagency Incident Business Management, PMS 902, and e-ISuite software.
- Answer student questions and facilitate a discussion about the position.
- Repeat until all C&G positions are discussed.
